

DONOR PRIVACY POLICY

Love Without Boundaries values and respects its donors' right to privacy. We protect against unauthorized use of our donor lists. LWB utilizes donors' personal information such as names, mailing addresses and email addresses only for purposes of donor acknowledgement and/or when an individual voluntarily provides this information and opts to join our mailing list. LWB does not share donors' personal or contact information with any third party organizations for purposes of solicitation.

Visitors to LWB's web site remain anonymous. LWB does not require visitors to register or provide personal information to view the site. There are instances when site visitors are asked for additional information in order to provide requested services, such as subscribing to our newsletter. In addition, information will be requested when making an online donation to LWB so the gift may be properly processed and thanked. All credit card transactions are conducted over a secure server.

We use a number of web analytics products to optimize our website, including Google Analytics and Google Website Optimizer. These tools do not require our site visitors to identify themselves, and they do not provide us any personally identifiable information about our visitors that is not supplied voluntarily. Our goal in using analytics is to understand what parts of our website you like and which parts need work.